Office of the White House Press Secretary

THE WHITE HOUSE

STATEMENT BY THE PRESIDENT

I welcome Chairman Khrushchev's statesmanlike decision to stop building bases in Cuba, dismantling offensive weapons and returning them to the Soviet Union under United Nations verification. This is an important and constructive contribution to peace.

We shall be in touch with the Secretary General of the United Nations with respect to reciprocal measures to assure peace in the Caribbean area.

It is my earnest hope that the governments of the world can, with a solution of the Cuban crisis, turn their urgent attention to the compelling necessity for ending the arms race and reducing world tensions. This applies to the military confrontation between the Warsaw Pact and NATO countries as well as to other situations in other parts of the world where tensions lead to the wasteful diversion of resources to weapons of war.

I welcome Chairman Khrushchev's statesmanlike

Effective Weapon
decision to stop building bases in Cuba, dismantling the equipment

Chairman and sending it back home under UN supervision. This is an important and constructive contribution to peace. I repeat my drawn from in the Caribbean area assurance that the United States will not invade Cuba since the necessity for military action would disappear with the removal of offensive weapons.

We shall be in touch with the Secretary General of the United Nations with respect to reciprocal measures to assure peace in the Caribbean area.

It is my earnest hope that the governments of the world
